“I have really benefited from being on an apprenticeship. Studying for a qualification alongside working on productions has allowed me to gain practical and theoretical knowledge of working in television. My apprenticeship has altered both me as a person and my ambitions for the future.”

Lizzie Evans – BBC
Arts, Media and Publishing

This publication was produced by KEITS Training Services Ltd in partnership with The Bedfordshire & Hertfordshire Provider Network, Kent Association of Training Organisations (KATO) and Nottingham Apprenticeship Hub's partner providers.

What is an apprenticeship?

Apprenticeships give you the opportunity to work for a real employer, earn a real salary and gain a real qualification whilst gaining valuable workplace skills and experience.

What are apprenticeships?

An apprenticeship is a real job with training so you can earn while you learn and pick up some nationally recognised qualifications as you go. They take between one and four years to complete and cover over 1,500 job roles in a wide range of industries, from things like engineering to financial advice, veterinary nursing to accountancy.

What types of apprenticeship are there?

There are a number of apprenticeship levels you can apply for depending on your current skills and qualifications:

- Intermediate level apprenticeship (level 2)
- Advanced level apprenticeship (level 3)
- Higher apprenticeship and degree (level 4 or above)

How old do you have to be?

Anyone living in England, over 16 years old and not in full-time education can apply to be an apprentice.

How much do you get paid?

All apprentices must receive the appropriate apprentice national minimum wage (£2.73 per hour for under 19 and first year apprentices, £5.13 for 19 and 20 year olds and £6.50 for those aged 21 and over). * Many employers pay more than this, depending on the sector, region and apprenticeship level.

What hours will I work?

Your employment will normally be a minimum of 30 hours per week but may be more. In a small number of circumstances you may complete an apprenticeship in less hours but there must be a valid reason and in these cases employment will be for a minimum of 16 hours per week.

Training

Apprenticeships are designed with the help of employers, so they offer a structured programme that takes you through the skills you need to do a job well. There are targets and checks to make sure that your employer is supporting you and you are making progress. As an employee you will be in the workplace for most of your time, as most training takes place on-the-job. The rest usually takes place at a training organisation (sometimes referred to as a training provider). Increasingly you will find that your training organisation will be utilising e-learning, e-portfolios and a variety of new technologies to help you to learn in the most fun and efficient way.

School leaving age

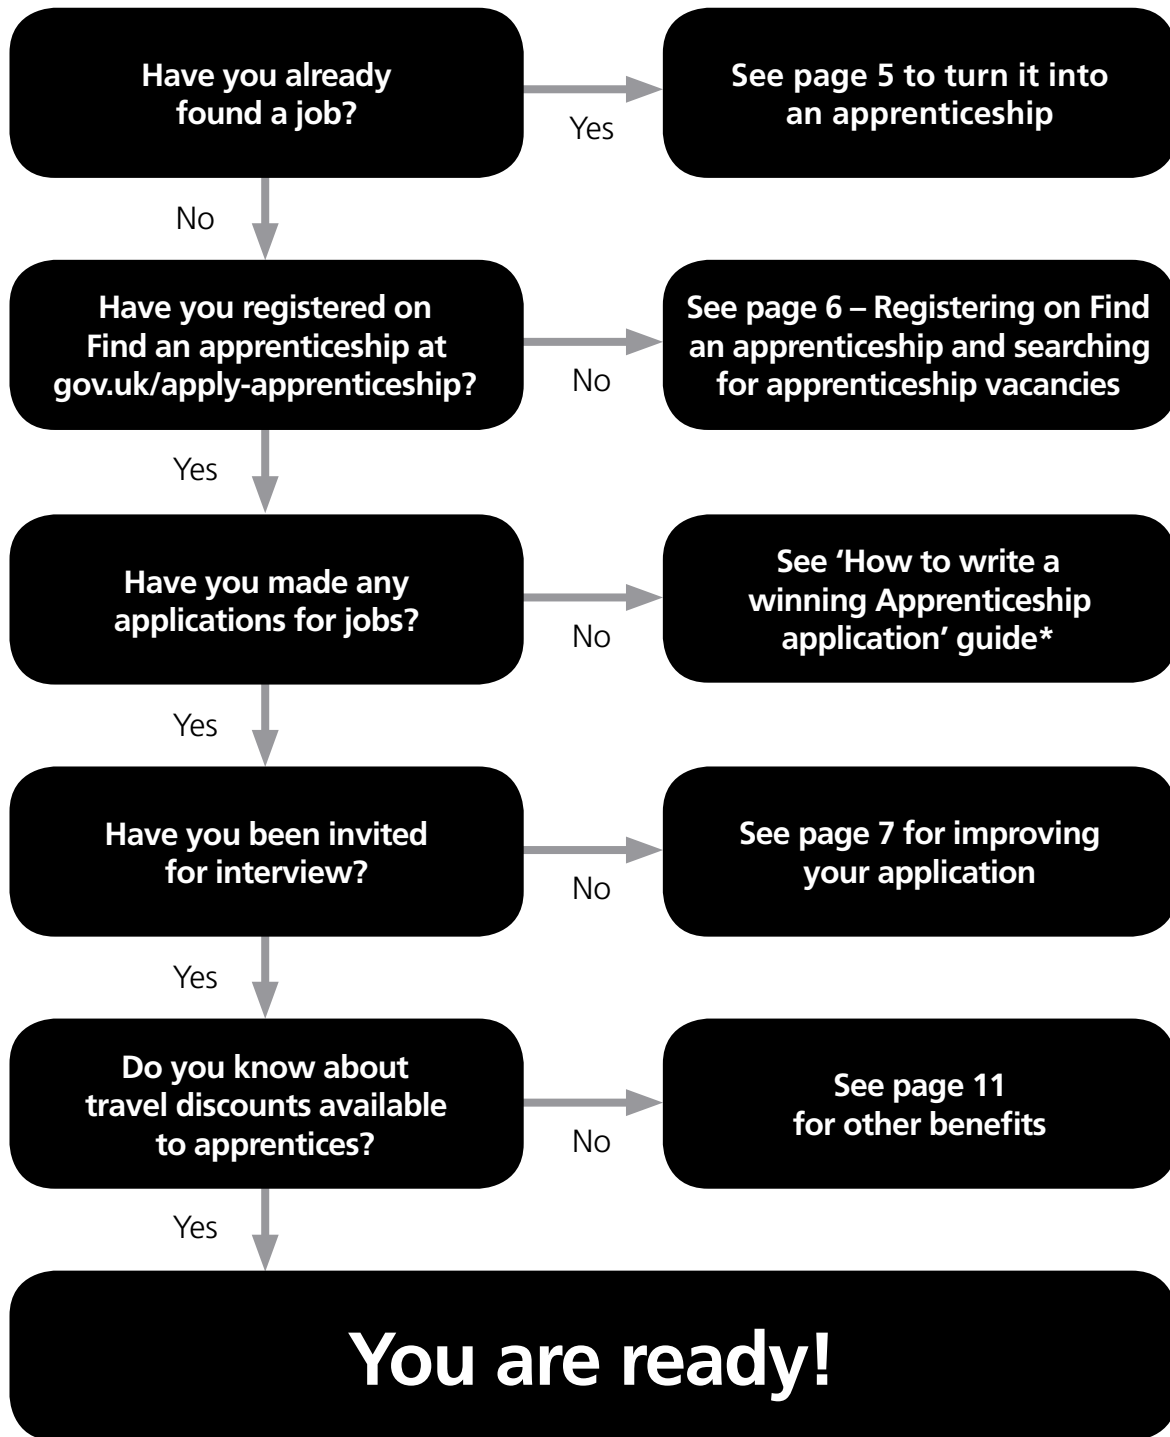

You must stay in some form of education or training until your 18th birthday if you were born on or after 1 September 1997.

Your options are:

- full-time education – e.g. at a school or college
- an apprenticeship or traineeship
- part-time education or training – as well as being employed, self-employed or volunteering for 20 hours or more a week.

*The national minimum wage for apprentices increases in October each year.

Already found a job?

Congratulations! If you have already found a job you may be able to convert it into an apprenticeship, follow these simple steps to find out how.

Turning your job into an apprenticeship

You will need to speak to your employer and check that they are happy to discuss the idea of you becoming an apprentice. There is plenty of help and support available for them and they may be eligible for a grant, providing they have not started an apprentice in the last 12 months, see below.

The Apprenticeship Grant for Employers of 16 to 24 year olds (AGE 16 to 24) is a £1,500 grant to help businesses to grow by employing young people through the apprenticeship programme. Your employer may be eligible for the grant if they are willing to transfer you to a new full time apprenticeship job role (minimum 30 hours per week). Ask your employer to visit the web page below for full details of the grant and eligibility criteria.

Finding an apprenticeship training organisation is really quick and easy. There is a new search tool on the apprenticeships website or you can call 08000 150 600. Simply type in a keyword linked to your job title and your postcode and a list of apprenticeship training organisations will be displayed. You can then select which organisations to contact and find out other useful information, such as success rates and their website.

A screenshot of a search tool titled "Find an Apprenticeship Training Organisation". The tool includes a phone number "08000 150 600" and instructions to talk to an advisor. It features a search form with fields for "Keyword: eg. job title*", "Level" (dropdown menu), "Your full postcode*", and "Distance*" (dropdown menu). A "Search" button is at the bottom. A note indicates "* required field".

Registering on Find an apprenticeship and searching for apprenticeship vacancies

1 Register your details

To search for apprenticeship vacancies go to gov.uk/apply-apprenticeship and click 'Start now' then register your details under 'Sign in/Create account'

It's free to register and once you have set up your account you can receive alerts to tell you about new vacancies that may interest you.

Top tip:

Make sure your email address is a professional one as it will be seen by potential employers.

2 Log in reminder

Email address: Password:

Your password must be at least 8 characters and include upper and lowercase letters and a number.

Top tip:

Make sure your email address is appropriate (as it will be seen by employers) and your password is something you can remember.

3 Account activation

Before you can get started applying for vacancies, you must activate your account.

When you register for the first time, you'll receive a confirmation email through your registered email address. You must activate your account entering the 6 digit code sent to you in the confirmation email.

Log in to your account by using the email address and password you used to set up your account.

Top tip:

The activation email will usually appear in your inbox but it may be diverted to your spam folder – so you should check this too.

4 Search for vacancies

You can search for your ideal job in a number of different ways including using keywords, such as job title, employer or vacancy reference number to suit your criteria.

Your search can also be refined by selecting the level of apprenticeship you are looking for – such as a higher apprenticeship.

Top tip:

Make sure your email address and mobile number are correct and up to date in 'Settings.'

5 Found a vacancy?

Once you've found the job you want, applying is easy. The application form is simple, secure and reusable, so you can respond to vacancies and save your application forms. You can view the status of your applications and manage them online.

You can apply for up to ten live vacancies at any one time.

Top tip:

First impressions count – use the spell checker and get someone to check your application.

Improving your application

There are a variety of ways you can describe yourself and your strengths. Try using the following:

'I am...'

- | | |
|---|--|
| <input type="checkbox"/> Skilled at... | <input type="checkbox"/> Excellent at... |

- Thank the interviewer for his/her time
- Emphasise your interest in the job
- Ask when a decision will be made

Other benefits

There are a number of different schemes available to support you both whilst you are looking for an apprenticeship and when you successfully secure employment. Two national schemes are detailed below. You can also check with your training organisation or local authority for details of what is available in your area.

Train Travel Discount Scheme

Jobcentre Plus has a Travel Discount Card that provides a 50% discount on most National Rail journeys for eligible individuals in the first three months of their apprenticeship or traineeship. In England and Wales, claimants become eligible for the discount card once they have been registered unemployed for 13 weeks, up to, and including the point when they enter the Work Programme.

The card can be used to help with the travel costs for attending interviews with employers, travelling to recruitment open days and job fairs, as well as providing discounted travel for the first three months of employment, including an apprenticeship.

Claimants can apply for the Discount Card at their local Jobcentre. You will need to bring in two passport sized photographs.

NUS Apprentice extra Card

The deals don't stop once you find employment as an apprentice. Did you know that apprentices are entitled to an NUS Card through the National Union of Students?

For just £11 you could have access to discounts from more than 120 high street and online retail partners meaning you could save around £525 per year. Discounts are available on travel, sport, books and DVD, technology, mobile and broadband, fashion and beauty and going out. You can even save 12% on your 16-25 Railcard.

Traineeships

If you're not ready for an apprenticeship, there are other pre-employment options available to you including traineeships.

Traineeships help unlock your great potential. They give you training to prepare you for the world of work, maths and English skills and the work experience needed to get an apprenticeship or other job.

Traineeships last a maximum of six months with the content tailored to your individual career needs, including:

- Meaningful work experience which provides an inside view of the world of work.
- Work preparation training which ensures you are ready and have the confidence to take the first step in your career, such as an apprenticeship.
- Maths and English support, if needed, to help give you the literacy and numeracy skills needed for the workplace.

Read the factsheet on gov.uk/government/publications/traineeships-are-they-for-me for information on eligibility and find out how traineeships can help you get ready for work.

Traineeships opportunities can be found on the 'Find a traineeship' site gov.uk/find-traineeship. You need to register to apply for traineeship vacancies. The registration process is the same as Find an apprenticeship (see page 6). You do not need a separate account

Work Experience through Jobcentre Plus (16 – 24)

Jobcentre Plus work with employers to offer 16 – 24 year old jobseekers the opportunity to gain experience of the world of work through offering a Work Experience placement lasting 2 – 8 weeks.

Young people undertaking a Work Experience placement will continue to receive their benefit and continue to look for permanent work. Jobcentre Plus will cover the costs of travel and childcare if required and there is also an opportunity for some participants to have their placement extended by up to 4 weeks where an employer makes an offer to take them onto an apprenticeship. Generally 16 – 17 year olds do not have access to Job Seekers Allowance, if you are not sure about which benefit you are entitled to please contact your local Jobcentre Plus office.
